Vincent Astors gave a Deautiful Dall at the first villa on Friday night, preceding their villa on Friday night, preceding the dance with a dinner attended by Bellevue-Stratford, who with her daughter, Miss Nancy Pearson, is spending the summer at the cottage at Eaglesmere at the dance, and it was a most generated affair. Mr. and Mrs. Joe will eave on August 12 for Southampton, R. I., she will spend a few weeks. Mrs. Pearson and Miss the Craig Biddles also attended, so the Pearson will later go to Newport for a fortnight's stay.

Mrs. Alexander Rice, who is always well dressed, caused quite the sensa-tion of the afternoon tennis on Friday appearing in a most exquisite frock white crepe made with square insets dull gold embroidery. She wore also large black hat and her wonderful rope of pearls. As Mrs. George Widener she was always one of the bestbressed women in Philadelphia, and as Mrs. Rice she dresses with the same exquisite taste.

OPEARING of the Goadby Loews' D dance at the Clambake Club, did you know that Anita Strawbridge is in Newport staying with the two Loew She has been attending the tennis every day, and from what a wee bird tells me, she is prettier than ever. She was to my mind one of the prettiest debutantes of last season. You never heard a word about her but that she was having a wonderful time, and every one, young and old, liked her.

She was wisely brought up by her attractive mother, and she certainly shows her good breeding by her case of manner and thoughtfulness for others. She is very pretty, with soft curly golden hair and beautiful eyes. Her mother is a very beautiful woman, too. She was Miss Anita Berwind, and was one of the greatest belles this city has

They have not actually and "posolutely" decided on just what day in the month of August they will announce it. it's just as nice an engagement as you'd NANCY WYNNE.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Stroud, of 1911 Clinton street and Villanova, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Stroud, Jr., of Hollow Tree, Villanova, will leave on August 13 for Northeast Harbor, Me., where they will spend several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Stroud's son, Dr. William D. Stroud, left on Saturday with the City Troop. He will later go to Northeast Harbor, where he will join his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tracy Griswold.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tracy Griswold, of Hothorpe, Radnor, who are spending the summer at Bar Harbor, Mc., will return to their home on September 20. Miss Edith Hutchinson, daughter of Mrs. Mahlon Hutchinson, of Ashwood, Parm, Devon, has returned from Stone Harbor, N. J., where she spent a fort-night as the guest of Mr. and Mrs.

alk finished at the side of the brim with a drooping tassel.

I ALMOST feel as if I ought to take back my remarks about Southampton beating Newport to it these days, for I have not heard of so much gayety at Newport as this year, and especially at Newport as this year, and especially his month, for several seasons. The Vincent Astors gave a heautiful ball at their villa on Friday night, preceding the dance with a dinner attended by forty guests.
